To the Gentlemen signing the above Requisition.

In compliance with the above requisition, I hereby call a public meeting, to be held at the School of Arts, on TUESDAY, the 6th instant, at 7, P.M.

J. R. WILSHIRE, Mayor.

Sydney, August 1. 1518

SYDNEY FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

AT a Meeting of persons desirous to promote the establishment in Sydney of an Office for Fire Insurance, on the mutual principle with limited liability, the following resolutions were agreed to as the basis of the proposed Institution, to be called the "Sydney Fire Insurance Company:"—

1. That no member shall be liable to lose more than five times the amount of his annual premium, of which he shall pay down one-fifth as premium for the year, and the remaining four-fifths shall be stipulated as his liability in the general bond, to be signed by all members on insuring in the Association; one quarter per cent. on the amount insured to be paid as entrance fee.

2. That no risk shall exceed £3000 until otherwise provided by a general meeting of the insurers.

3. That all policies shall contain the average clause.

4. That the risks shall be divided into classes, and the premiums for each class be fixed by the Directors, or a Committee for preliminary arrangements.

5. That no insurance shall be accepted until approved of by a Board of Directors; provided that any provisional Committee that may be appointed for preliminary arrangements, shall exercise the functions of Directors in this respect until the Board be regularly constituted.

6. That the funds of the Company shall be kept in one or more of the Banks, or invested in Government securities, at the discretion of the Directors; but no portion thereof shall at any time be employed in the discounting of private bills.

7. That every three years, fifty per cent. of the nett profits of the Company shall be divided amongst its members, in proportion to the time they may have been insured, and the amount of their premiums paid; provided that no such division shall take place unless the reserved fund shall amount to £5000.

8. That the Directors and Auditors shall be allowed from the funds of the Association such moderate remuneration for their actual services as may hereafter be agreed upon.

9. That the appointments of the necessary officers and servants of the Association, and of the premises where its business shall be conducted shall be left to the discretion of the Directors.

10. That a provisional Committee be formed for the purpose of conducting the preliminary arrangements necessary towards the establishment of the Association; its immediate duties to comprise especially,—the fixing of a scale of premiums—receiving proposals for Insurance and deciding thereon, subject to conditions and regulations to be framed by the Committee, who shall also procure a bond to be prepared for the signature of members on effecting their Insurances.

11. That whenever proposals to insure shall have been approved of by the Provisional Committee to the extent of £100,000, or as soon thereafter as they may deem expedient, the said Committee shall convene a meeting of such approved insurers for the purpose of electing Directors and Auditors.

12. Members will be entitled to one vote in proportion to every £500 they may stand insured in the Company, whether in the election of Directors and Auditors, or at the decision of any points that by the conditions and regulations may be left to the members at large, provided that the approved insurers shall in the first instance exercise the rights of members, by show of hands only, until a body of the latter shall have been constituted by actual insurance.

13. That the following gentlemen be the Provisional Committee, with leave to make additions to their body as they may see occasion, viz.:—

Messrs. T. Agars	C. Kemp
D. Daniels	H. Meinertzhagen
H. Ferris	C. W. Roemer
J. Grahame	W. R. Scott

Mr. G. trusts from the fact of his having so recently arrived from London, where he was assistant to M. Denise, M. Filon, M. ADVERTISEMENT.

MR. JOHN SHEAHAN, in returning his sincere thanks to the inhabitants of Campbelltown and the adjacent districts, for their very liberal support since his commencement in business, begs to inform them, and the public generally, that he has taken out an AUCTIONEER'S LICENSE, in which capacity he trusts he will be fully competent to do justice to those gentlemen who may feel pleased to honour him with their support, which he earnestly solicits, and shall be his constant study to merit.

J. S. also begs leave to inform those gentlemen acting as Offici l Assignees to insolvent estates, that when any cases of insolvency may occur in this or the adjacent districts, he will, upon their written authority and instructions, be happy to effect sales, and transmit the proceeds with punctuality and despatch.

Campbelltown, July 26. 1255

ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE Undersigned begs to return thanks to his friends and the public for the liberal support he has received during the last eight years, and to inform them that, in consequence of ill health, he has disposed of the whole of his interest in the business lately carried on by him, as a Bookseller and Stationer, together with the Stock-in-trade, to his late assistant, Mr. W. A. COLMAN, for whom he solicits the same patronage so liberally bestowed upon himself; feeling assured that Mr. C. will, by strict attention to business, and keeping a constant supply of the best articles, do everything in his power to merit their support.

JAMES TEGG.

George-street, Sydney, July 8.

W. A. COLMAN announces to his friends and the inhabitants of the Australian colonies, that he has purchased the entire Stock-in-trade of Mr. James Tegg, Bookseller and Stationer, (opposite the Barrack-gate) Sydney, and hopes, by strict attention to their orders, keeping a well selected stock, and moderation in his charges, to merit a continuance of the favours bestowed upon his predecessor.

W. A. C. feels confident that an experience gained in one of the first wholesale houses in London, together with the knowledge of colonial business, (acquired during a period of six years at the head of Mr. Tegg's establishment) combined with the opportunities which he has of importing at the lowest price, will enable him to keep up such a regular supply of Books and Stationery, as to justify his hopes of giving satisfaction to all who may honour him with a portion of their patronage.

BEE HIVE.

CHRISTOPHER NEWTON has just received the annexed, ex St. Vincent, and feeling assured that the most correct plan will be to lay his instructions before the public, as he has received them, hastens to do so without any comment.

"London, March 26, 1844.

"MR. CHRISTOPHER NEWTON,

"Sir,—We have this day consigned to your "care, one case containing, as per invoice, "fifty-nine pieces of our new and patent "article for ladies' summer wear, viz., Poil "de Chêvre. They are all the rage here, and "from their suitableness to the Sydney climate "we have no doubt that you will find great "demand for them. Our object in only sending one case is to try how they suit, and if "you remit cash for them at an early opportunity, we shall have much pleasure in supplying you with any quantity. We are, "however, very desirous to have a bond fide "cash return for the goods sent, and as our "previous transactions induce us to place "every confidence in you, we have no hesitation in saying that should these goods not "realise our expectations in the Sydney market, sell them at whatever price they will "bring, paying no respect to the invoice cost. "This, however, we must leave to your own "discretion. • • • • • •

"We are, Sir,
"Your obedient servants,
"ULLATHORNE AND CO."

Christopher Newton regrets the receipt of fresh consignments at the present time, as in consequence of his determination to sell off the whole of his stock and close all English consignments, the above goods must be sacrificed. It is, therefore, his intention to sell the whole of them at 3s. 4½d. per dress, without any distinction.

August 2nd. 1578

THE undersigned, having decided to open his large stock of CHINA, IRONSTONE, and EARTHENWARE, and having for this purpose fitted up a part of the extensive stores in the rear of his new IRONMONGERY establishment, respectfully invites the trade, country storekeepers, and others, to inspect his stock, which is thoroughly well assorted, comprising every article in demand in this department of British manufacture, and of first-rate quality: the whole of which will be sold in quantities to suit purchasers, and at prices that cannot fail to give satisfaction.

R. M. ROBEY,
427, George-street.

N. B.—Elegant china breakfast, tea, and coffee services, ironstone and earthenware dinner services, and fancy toilet ware, suitable for all classes of buyers, always on hand. 491

THE LAST MONTH OF THE SELLING OFF OF THE £10,000 STOCK OF THE BEE HIVE.

IN consequence of the wet weather, many parties have been disappointed in not being able to make purchases at the Bee Hive.

CHRISTOPHER NEWTON, although he cannot lengthen the time specified, has been enabled during the temporary cessation of business to make such arrangements as will materially conduce to the comfort and facility with which customers will in future be attended to, and sincerely hopes that the inconvenience in some cases experienced (owing to the crowded state of the shops) will not again occur.

All parties who have not yet availed themselves of the advantages offered at this establishment should lose no time in so doing, as at the expiration of the present month the PUBLIC AUCTION, ON THE PREMISES, must take place.

The consignments of LADIES' BONNETS are of the choicest description, and embrace every variety in quality and shape. Also,

GENTLEMEN'S HATS

CHRISTOPHER NEWTON is able to offer at lower prices than heretofore; and as amongst the consignments received from England have been some of that superior make, "Elliot, of London," no gentleman need want a good hat while he can have one at a common price.

Already 600 chests have been shipped to Adelaide and Van Diemen's Land per Hawk and Tamar.—Port Phillip Herald, July 23.

THE "ISABELLA."—We are glad to learn that, finding that no decisive steps were being taken towards arranging for the distribution of the funds raised for the benefit of the sufferers by the wreck of the Isabella, the Committee of the Strangers' Friend Society have appointed the following gentlemen belonging to their body, viz., the Rev. Mr. Ham, Messrs. Mortimer, Lush, Davis, and Langlands, a Committee for the purpose of superintending the disposal of the funds already received, and to receive any further donations for the same purpose which may be handed over to them. The sum of £7 10s. collected by the Baptist congregation has been placed at the disposal of the Committee.—Port Phillip Patriot.

The Phœbe has brought about ninety tons sugar from the Sandwich Islands. She has met with very heavy weather during the last fortnight, and having sprung the head of her foremast, put into Trial Bay to fish it, where she remained three days. The schooner Matilda reported ashore there a short time since, had gone entirely to pieces. The brig Sir John Byng arrived at Oahu on the 12th May, and was to leave again for Sydney on the 1st June, touching at the Navigator Islands. The Sarah Ann had not arrived at Tahiti. The schooner Lady of St. Kilda, had been sold at Tahiti, for £1200. Captain Jackson and family had proceeded on to Valparaiso. The Phœbe has spoken nothing on the passage. News had been received at Oahu, that another collision had taken place between the French and the natives at Tahiti, in which the latter suffered a slight loss.

A dangerous reef was discovered by Captain Tabor, commanding the Maria Theresa, on the 16th of November last, in S. L. 37°, and W. L. 151° 13'. Captain Tabor does not find it laid down on any charts which he has fallen in with since the discovery.—Honolulu Temperance Advocate, March 2.

The schooner Jane, from Moreton Bay, was compelled to put into Trial Bay, owing to adverse winds. The schooners Robert Burns and Lucy Ann, hence for the Bellinger, had also put into Trial Bay. The cutter William, hence, entered the M'Leay on Thursday last. The Jane saw the schooner Port Phillip last Tuesday week, off the Richmond; she was too late for that tide, and as the southerly gale sprung up immediately after, it is considered that she must have stood away for some harbour to the northward.

It is expected that the Sydney will sail for the Bay of Islands this morning.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

There may be exceptions; but as a general rule the Governor can take no notice of complaints against officers made anonymously. He would be acting most improperly if he did pay attention to charges so conveyed.

For about the hundredth time we have to decline inserting correspondence respecting extracts from London journals which appear in the Herald unless they have some immediate connexion with the colony.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

MONDAY, AUGUST 5, 1844.

"Sworn to no master, of no sect am I."

PROCEEDINGS OF MEETINGS.

We have a few words to say respecting the publication of the proceedings of public meetings, to which we wish to draw the attention of our country readers. When a meeting is held in the country, and one of our regular correspondents, or any other person, sends us a duly authenticated report of the proceedings, we are always glad to receive and insert it in the Herald, provided the subject is of sufficient importance to render its publication advisable. When, however, the bare resolutions are sent down, according to the universal practice of the Press they should be considered as, and paid for as, advertisements. We do not say that we shall never publish these resolutions unless so paid for, but we think it right to say that the above is the universal rule; and if we insert the resolutions only as country news, we are yielding to the importunity of subscribers, and breaking a rule which ought to be upheld. We are averse from making allusions to money matters in our editorial capacity; but as many of our country friends appear to be ignorant of this rule we have taken this prominent mode of drawing their attention to it. A single glance at any leading London paper will show that the rule we have referred to is universally adopted.

PORT PHILLIP.

THE Port Phillip papers, which are to the 27th July, inclusive, are void of interest, as they have been for the last few weeks. The Herald and the Patriot are quarrelling as to the result of Mr. Justice WILLIS's appeal to the Home Government. The Herald affirms that the authorities in Downing-street were perfectly convinced of Mr. WILLIS's "insanity." The Patriot affirms that "Sir GEORGE GIPPS will speedily be summoned home to answer for his misdeeds" in the matter.

A proprietary seminary had been established, patrons, His Honor Mr. LA TROBE and Mr. Justice JEFFCOTT. The Gazette says—

The shares are, we believe, to be £10 10s. each, for which the holder will be entitled to the right of presentation, for one year, of one boy to be educated gratuitously. A board of management has been nominated, with His Honor Mr. La Throbe and Judge Jeffcott as patrons. The sum required for its endowment, is estimated at £1000, and we understand that our respected Judge has liberally offered the munificent donation of £100 towards this object, conditionally with the management being able to induce nine other parties to be equally liberal. What his brother patron's (Mr. La Trobe) intentions are, we have not yet learned, but trust to be able to say with the poet, "Fies nobilium tu quoque fontium." From what we can understand, the institution is intended for all classes and persuasions. An application for a Government grant has been suggested; but will be relinquished should it be followed by Government interference.

The Herald reports that wethers were scarce and dear, and that 8s. per head had been offered and refused for an average flock. The MAYOR and other Magistrates had dismissed the Chief Constable, BRODIE, formerly of the Sydney Police. There are contradictory statements as to the grounds of dismissal, but an appeal to higher authorities was contemplated.

THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.

INTELLIGENCE from the Sandwich Islands to the 22nd of May, came to hand on Saturday, but since the recognition of independence, no events of consequence appear to have taken place. At the port of Lahaine, where there are often thirty or forty whalers lying at one time, there appears to be considerable drunkenness, which is in a great degree attributed to the French having by treaty provided that brandy shall not be charged a higher duty than five per cent. JOHN RICORD, Esq., an attorney and counsellor of the Supreme Court of the United States of America, having renounced his allegiance to the American Government, and taken the oaths of allegiance to King KAMEHAMEHA III., had been appointed Attorney-General for the Hawaiin Islands. We shall give a few statistics showing the state of trade, &c., to-morrow.

SUPREME COURT.—EQUITY JURISDICTION.
FRIDAY.

BEFORE his Honor Mr. Justice STEPHEN.

HUGHES AND ANOTHER v. MITCHELL AND OTHERS.

This was a bill to set aside an annuity deed, under which an annuity of £675 was granted by Messrs. Hughes and Hosking to Captain Rothwick Wight, to secure a sum of £5000. The latter sum, it appeared, had been the supposed value of a ship and cargo, and the ground alleged for superseding the annuity deed was, that there had been a misrepresentation by the annuitant of such value, inasmuch as at the time it was granted, the ship was really unseaworthy. To this it had been replied that the vessel was perfectly seaworthy, and was insurable up to the time of the transfer; but the subsequent springing of a leak in her was in consequence of injuries sustained during a heavy gale at sea.

The Court was engaged during the whole day in hearing the arguments of Counsel in the above case.

COURT OF VICE-ADMIRALTY.—This Court having been opened in the usual form, a commission under the hand and seal of Sir James Dowling, and bearing a certificate of confirmation under the hand of the Governor, was read, appointing Samuel Frederick Milford, Esq., the Master in Equity, to act as Judge of the Court of Vice-Admiralty during the illness of Sir James was read. Mr. Milford then took his seat on the Bench; but no business being brought before the Court, it was adjourned till Tuesday next.

SUPREME COURT.—CIVIL SIDE.
SATURDAY.

BEFORE their Honors Mr. Justice STEPHEN and Mr. Justice A'BECKETT, in Banco.

EXPARTE WAUGH, IN RE POLACK, v. SPARK.

This was an application made on a former day, on the part of R. A. Waugh, to set aside a writ of scire facias, issued against him, and all subsequent proceedings thereon, and it appeared that judgment having been obtained in the above case, on which the defendant Spark was sued on the part of the Steam Navigation Company, the judgment had been altered by Mr. Justice Burton, to one against the Company, instead of against the defendant individually. In consequence of this change, which was contended to have been irregular, the writ of scire facias alluded to had been issued against Mr Waugh, as one of the shareholders in the company.

The COURT now delivered its decision in the above case, declaring that the alteration by the Judge was perfectly regular, while the alteration was rendered necessary, as in the present instance, by the mere misprision of the clerk in the making up of the Roll; and cases were quoted to show that this had been done even after a lapse of years. The rule was therefore discharged with costs.

IN RE MACDERMOTT AND OTHERS.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL applied for a rule to show cause why a criminal information should not be placed upon the file, against Henry Macdermott, Samuel Moore, and John Macfarlane, for endeavouring to provoke Robert Lowe Esq., member of the Legislative Council, to fight a duel, and was proceeding to refer to the affidavits in support of this application, when

Mr. Justice STEPHEN enquired for whom the Attorney-General appeared,

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL replied, that he appeared nominally for Mr. Lowe, but really on behalf of the Legislative Council, by whose direction this prosecution was commenced.

Mr. Justice STEPHEN remarked that they could not recognise the Attorney-General as acting for the Legislative Council, but merely as applying on behalf of the party aggrieved.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL said, that he appeared really for Mr. Lowe, not as Attorney General on the part of the Crown, but in his private capacity as a barrister; and although some doubts might have existed according to the practice of the Court of Queen's Bench, as to whether he was in time by coming on the last day of term, he had no doubt of being able to convince the Court that no unnecessary delay had taken place, even if the rules alluded to should be held applicable to the present case, which he thought very doubtful. He then proceeded to read from the affidavits of Mr. Lowe, and Mr. F. W. Unwin, by which affidavits it was set forth—That on the 27th of June last, the said Robert Lowe having occasion in his place in the Legislative Council to address that body upon a subject then under discussion, had casually mentioned the name of the said Henry Macdermott, but without any intention to give offence. That at the time when the said Robert Lowe so addressed the Council, there were, as usual, a number of strangers in the gallery listening to the debates of the Council; and that on the morning of the 28th of June, a report of what Mr. Lowe had said, and to which report he, Mr. Lowe, was in no way privy, had been published in the Sydney Morning Herald, by which the remarks made by him, in which the mention of Mr. Macdermott's name had occurred, were reported as follows:—"He would leave it to the honorable gentleman (meaning a member of the Council, with reference to whom Mr. Lowe was then speaking) who was so anxious to be the conscience keeper of his brethren, to determine upon his own conduct in bringforward this motion and other matters, among which were his threat to bring the members of the Australian Subscription Library under the censure of the House for having blackballed Mr. Macdermott." That at a subsequent period of the day, the before mentioned John Macfarlane waited upon Mr. Lowe, bringing with him a letter from Mr. Macdermott, to the following effect:—

8, George-street, Sydney,
Friday Evening, 28th June, 1844.

Sir,—My attention has been directed to a paragraph in the Sydney Morning Herald of to day, in which you are represented as having alluded to me. I beg to enquire with what object such allusion was made. My friend, Dr. Macfarlane, who will deliver you this letter, will receive your reply.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
H. MACDERMOTT.

To —— Lowe, Esq., M.C.,
Horbury Terrace, Sydney.

The affidavit of Mr. Lowe went on to state, that upon reading this letter he told Dr. Macfarlane that he conceived Mr. Macdermott had by sending it, committed a breach of privilege, and he therefore declined sending any answer. Upon the following day, on going to his chambers in Elizabeth-street, he found Dr. Macfarlane waiting for him, in company with the above named Samuel Moore, who was introduced to him (Mr. Lowe) as Captain Moore by Dr. Macfarlane, and was represented as having been sent by Mr. Macdermott to demand an explanation or apology, and in the event of that being refused, to adopt ulterior measures. It was sworn by Mr. Lowe, that he believed the ulterior measures alluded to, to have been meant as hostile proceedings on the part of Mr. Macdermott, and that the letter forwarded in the first instance was sent with a similar view; and having still declined to apologise upon this second occasion, some words ensued which induced him (Mr. Lowe) to request the two gentlemen before named to leave his chambers; and upon their declining to go away, he himself left. Mr. Lowe then went before J. Mitchell, Esq., one of the justices of the peace for the City of Sydney, and made an affidavit of the above circumstances; upon which a warrant was issued, and the above parties were severally bound to keep the peace towards him, the said Robert Lowe, for the space of twelve months. Considering, as a member of the Legislative Council, that he was bound to bring this matter under the consideration of that body, he (Mr. Lowe) had done so at their next meeting, and a Select Committee having been appointed to consider the matter, it was recommended by that Committee that permission to file a criminal information should be applied for. It was distinctly sworn that at the examination before the Police Bench, Mr Macdermott had admitted having written the letter which had been brought to Mr. Lowe in the first instance by Dr. Macfarlane. Mr. Unwin's affidavit set forth that he had been instructed relative to the proceeding, on Monday, the 29th ult., at too late an hour to prepare affidavits for moving the Court on Tuesday, and that as the Court had adjourned its Banco sittings from Tuesday until the last day of term, the application could not be made before that time, although it might have been made upon an earlier day, if the Court had been sitting. The Attorney-General then proceeded to contend that the custom in the Court of Queen's Bench of not permitting the issue of a rule nisi of this description on the last day of term, if applicable at all, was only applicable to the cases of magistrates, when applications were made against them in their official capacity, and quoted cases to show that, even with reference to magistrates, the rule had been allowed to go, upon its being shown that there was no unnecessary delay, and that the cause of complaint had accrued during the term. He also quoted a case to show that some doubt would arise as to whether they would not be too late on coming next term, with the intervention of assizes in the mean time; and he contended that the Court was not in a position to refuse the present application, pointing out at the same time that if the rule was at once granted, and was made returnable on the first or second day of next term, the causes in the event of its being made absolute, might be tried during the sittings after that term; as it was the practice of the Court not to try cases of this nature during the course of the assizes, but during the civil sittings of the Court. He submitted, therefore, that sufficient grounds had been shown for the granting of this rule, and for explaining away the seeming delay that had occurred in the application, and no mere rule of practice should be suffered to interfere in a matter of this important description, so essential in its nature to the preservation of public peace. The present application being merely for a rule nisi, no notice had been given to the other side of the intended application, no such notice being necessary, as it would be sufficient for them to come in when the rule should be made returnable with whatever arguments they could urge against it.

Messrs. Broadhurst and Darvall appeared for Mr Macdermott, to oppose the application.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL objected to their being heard, contending that they at present possessed no locus standi, unless they intended to show cause against the rule at once.

The COURT decided that neither of those gentlemen could be heard upon the present application, unless they came prepared to do one of two things. To consent, on the part of Mr. Macdermott, to the issuing of the rule, or to show cause, at once, against its being made absolute. Mr. Macdermott not being before the Court at that time for any other purposes, that these, the learned gentlemen who appeared for him, could have no locus standi except for similar purposes.

Mr. Justice STEPHEN then said, that although neither himself nor Mr. Justice A'Beckett had ever concurred in the former decisions of the Court as to the absence of discretionary power in the Judges, with reference to applications of this nature, they were decidedly agreed that the Court as at present constituted could possess no discretion upon the matter after the point had been solemnly determined upon by the full Court: for unless the decision could be shown to be manifestly erroneous, they were bound to respect it. Even if the Court was at liberty to entertain the question of delay as a ground of refusing the present motion, it would still be questionable whether sufficient circumstances had not been shown in the present case, to convince the Court that the application could scarcely have been made sooner; and he was by no means certain that the Court would not have been satisfied upon the point, looking to the peculiar circumstances of the case, and to the mode of regulating its days of sitting, which the Court had been compelled to resort to during the present term. The next question therefore was, whether sufficient had been shown to make out a prima facie case for the issuing of the rule nisi, and they were decidedly agreed upon the fact that two separate and distinct prima facie cases had been made out upon each, of which a rule might be properly applied for. There was in the first instance the delivery of the letter by Dr. Macfarlane, on the 28th, with which Captain Moore was in no way connected, and could not therefore be included; and there was in the second place the interview between Mr. Lowe, Dr. Macfarlane, and Captain Moore, on the 29th, with which there was at present no evidence to connect Mr. Macdermott; although there was a statement of Captain Moore having been introduced as the representative of that gentleman by Dr. Macfarlane, by which introduction, Mr. Macdermott could not legally be bound. There being then two distinct cases, the Attorney-General must be called upon to elect as to which he would proceed upon, as the two informations could not be mingled together, and while Captain Moore would be disconnected with the first case, Mr. Macdermott would, according to the present statement of facts, be equally disconnected with the second. There was, indeed, no evidence at present to show precisely in what the state of circumstances forming the second case had originated: for although an inference might be drawn connecting the visit of Captain Moore with the letter of the previous day, there was no proof on this point.

Mr. Justice A'BECKETT concurred in opinion with Mr. Justice Stephen, that the Court was not at liberty to go into the question of delay as a ground for refusing the application, and that even if this question had really been open, sufficient facts had been shown in the present case to explain away the objections, on the ground of delay. He also concurred in the opinion, that the Attorney-General must elect as to which of the prima facie cases that had been made out he would rely upon: for there being only one set of affidavits, they could not be made the ground of issuing two distinct rules.

The ATTORNEY-GENERAL said, that he had been taken altogether by surprise by the decision which their Honors had come to, and applied to be allowed until a subsequent period of the day to determine as to the course he should adopt.

Permission was granted to this effect, and subsequently the ATTORNEY-GENERAL applied to the Court for a rule nisi, calling upon the three gentlemen before named, to show cause why a criminal information should not be filed against them, with reference to the occurrences of the 29th of June, and in support of this application he produced a fresh set of affidavits, identical in their terms with those previously brought forward, with the exception of an additional passage to the affidavit of Mr. Lowe, with the view of connecting Mr. Macdermott with this proceeding. By this additional passage it was shown that during the examination of the parties before the Police Court, Mr. Macdermott had not attempted to deny the fact of Captain Moore having acted under his instructions, but had applied the epithets of "coward" and "poltroon" to Mr. Lowe, referring by those epithets, as Mr. Lowe believed, to his having refused the challenge sent on the occasion alluded to. The whole behaviour of Mr. Macdermott during the examination was sworn to have been very insulting; and at the close of the examination he was stated to have offered to give an indemnification for a breach of the recognisances, meaning thereby, as Mr. Lowe understood, to hold out a still further inducement for a breach of the peace. Under all these circumstances it was sworn by Mr. Lowe that he had no doubt of Captain Moore and Dr. Macfarlane having been sent by Mr. Macdermott.

After some further discussion,

The COURT decided that, although in the first set of affidavits sufficient had not been shown to connect Mr. Macdermott with the alleged offence of the 29th June, there was sufficient in the affidavits now filed to make out a sufficient prima facie case for the issue of this rule.

It was understood that there should be two rules: the first referring to the occurrences of the 28th, and the second to those of the 29th. The terms of the two rules were identical, except that in the first rule the names of Mr. Macdermott and Dr. Macfarlane were only included, and that to the latter rule the name of Captain Moore was to be added. These gentlemen were severally called upon, according to the terms of the rule, to show cause "why a criminal information should not be filed against them for intimidating Robert Lowe, Esq., in the performance of his duty as a member of the Legislative Council, and endeavouring to provoke the said Robert Lowe to fight a duel, and for a breach of the peace."

IN RE W. B. CARLYLE v. CHARLES COXEN.

Mr. FOSTER enquired whether their Honors would be prepared before the Court rose to deliver judgment in the above cases, as considerable expense was being incurred by some of the parties concerned pending the decision of the Court.

Mr. Justice STEPHEN remarked, that himself and his brother Judge had made up their minds that the order for the sequestration of Mr. Coxen's estate must be confirmed; but that, as the case was one of considerable importance, he should be prepared on a future day—probably on Wednesday next—to deliver judgment at greater length, setting forth the views upon which their decision had been arrived at.

JOHNSON v. THE BANK OF AUSTRALASIA.

In this case the plea had been demurred to by the plantiff, and judgment upon demurrer had been given for the defendant. An application was now made by Mr. WINDEYER for leave to come in and interplead; and in support of this application an affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney was read, stating his belief that the Bank had no good defence to the action.

Messrs. FOSTER and BROADHURST appeared on the other side, and opposed the application on several grounds; particularly upon the ground that there was no grounds shown for the allegation that the Bank possessed no good defence.

The COURT reserved its judgment until the first day of next term.

Some other motions of an unimportant nature were also heard and disposed of, and the Court rose at about half past five.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN MINES.

KNOWING the interest with which the residents of this colony are watching the progress of the mines recently opened in the neighbourhood of Adelaide, we have much pleasure in publishing the following analysis of some copper and lead ores from the Glen Osmond Mines:—

Report of Lead and Copper Ores from South Australia.

No. 1 is nearly pure Galena, the component parts of which in different specimens I should think would vary much.

Lead	80
Sulphur	15
Silver	0 72-100
Sand and loss sufficient (to make up the hundred parts).

No. 2.—Rather a pretty specimen of Copper Ore, containing—

Copper	29½
Oxide of Iron	22
Carbonic Acid Gas	20½
Sulphur	10
Foreign matter, chiefly Limestone	9
Water	9

No. 3 seems to be a specimen of the dark Tin Ore, much alloyed with other metals.

Tin	20
Sulphur	16
Copper	3
Iron	4
Oxide Lead	30
Silicious sand, and loss	27
	100

No. 4.—A specimen of Lead Ore, much mixed.

Silver	3·5
Lead	59
Sulphur	13
Phosphoric Acid	20

Sulphur	16·5
Copper	0·5
Silver	3 to 5
Water	2·3
Earthy matter, and loss	17·7

Tin	2·3
Antimony	1
Silicious sand, and loss	20·2

IMPORTANT SALE OF SUBURBAN PROPERTY.

VILLAGE OF ARNCLIFFE,

About three-quarters of a mile from the Dam at COOK'S RIVER, AND ON THE HIGH ROAD TO WOLLONGONG.

MR. EDWARD SALAMON has been instructed to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, George-street, on

THURSDAY, AUGUST 15TH,

At Twelve o'clock,

The remaining portion of the above valuable Estate, commencing from Richards's garden, and adjoining the "Yorkshireman's Arms," kept by Mr. Thomas Kelsey, being divided into allotments of about one acre each, on either side of

SIR THOMAS MITCHELL'S NEW LINE OF ROAD TO WOLLONGONG,

and comprising that rich flat of garden land, of which the Nurseries of Richards, Kelsey, and Wilson, form a part; also, into about

FIFTEEN SECTIONS, OR SMALL FARMS, from 3 to 10 acres each, some of them bounded by, and all having access to,

HANNAM'S CREEK,

Fresh water, never known to fail in the driest seasons). The flat round the creek is of that fine rich loam so much sought after by market gardeners and nurserymen, and has a northward aspect, sheltered on all sides, and is considered by competent judges, to be equal to any spot in the colony for an ORCHARD OR VINERY. This flat is also accessible by water up WOLLI CREEK, and is merely a pleasant row from the dam.

The increased importance and consequent value attached to this property, by the high road from Sydney to Wollongong running through it, must be too obvious to require comment, and the quality of the land, added to its contiguity to the metropolis, render it peculiarly desirable for the purposes above referred to.

The property has been accurately surveyed, and the plan is on view at the rooms of the auctioneer.

Title unexceptionable.

NEWS FROM THE INTERIOR.

(From our various Correspondents.)

WINDSOR.

WE have for the last five or six days been bountifully favoured with a plentiful supply of gentle and refreshing showers, with sunshine intervening at intervals, and from information obtained from persons arriving from the outskirts, it would appear that the whole of the Hawkesbury district has been similarly circumstanced.

The wheat, which previously assumed anything but an appearance indicative of the blessings of an abundant harvest, is now beginning to cover the ground, cheering the eye with its verdure, and entirely superseding the appearance of sterility, which had previously saluted the gaze of the anxious husbandman. Another great advantage we may expect to derive from this seasonable moisture is, an early spring of grass, which is much needed with us, the present winter having been a very trying one for cattle. For the last three weeks an epidemical cold, in most cases accompanied with cough, has prevailed, many persons having been attacked very severely, and but few have been fortunate enough to escape. It is attributed to the cold harsh wind, which prevailed for some time previous to the present rain, which it is to be hoped will entirely disperse it. Our District Council is quite at a stand still, without signs of life or motion, and in that condition the generality of the people would be glad to see them continue. Whether they are dull of comprehension or not, is a matter which admits of a difference of opinion, but they certainly either cannot or will not see the advantages deriveable from the establishment of free institutions amongst them.

Crime is rather on the increase, there having been several cases of horse and cattle stealing, particularly in the neighbourhood of Upper Richmond; also, a case of a dray robbery, one of burglarly, by three armed men at the Kurrajong, and a most horrifying case of murder, committed by a man while in a state of insanity, occasioned by the administration, to him, of some deleterious drugs, to prevent him from being able to give evidence in a case of cattle stealing. Many persons ascribe the increase of crime to the removal of the Quarter Sessions and Gaol Establishment, it being a well-known fact, that in many instances the parties aggrieved will sooner put up with the loss than be exposed to the trouble, expense, and loss of time, to which they would subject themselves by going to Parramatta to prosecute. The depredating gentry are wall aware that such is the case, and do not fail to take advantage of it.

The state of the bridges on the Windsor road, for about a mile out of the town, is very bad; it is expected that after this rain they will be almost impassable. One life has already been lost there within the last four months, besides many trifling accidents; and we cannot but expect that, while they remain in their present state, such casualties will be of frequent occurrence. It is quite apparent, that there must be some neglect with respect to these bridges, there being more than sufficient funds for their reparation, in the hands of the Colonial Treasurer, particularly appropriated for the requisite repairs of the Windsor road, and the only thing wanting is, for the Treasurer of the District Council to draw the money, and to see to its proper expenditure.

GOULBURN.

AUGUST 1.—The search for Mr. Barber has continued unabated, but without success; and the most gloomy forbodings as to some melancholy result are anticipated by his distressed family: all the water holes have been dragged in the locality, and no expense denied in searching for the body, for all hopes of seeing him alive are banished from their minds. It is now six weeks since he went a-missing, and there is a degree of mystery in the matter that, for the present, defies the best exertions of his friends to unravel; but dark as the cloud is that hangs over this untoward event, we hope, for the relief of his family, that light will speedily break in upon it; and, that if he has been deprived of his life by violence, that a chain of evidence will be obtained to bring the guilty to punishment.

The weather has been, as it generally is at this season of the year, dull and foggy, with occasional rain. We understand it has fallen much heavier further down the country than with us; the little that has fallen has been of great service—the Rains begin to assume the hue of spring.

The following petition has been presented for signature in the district:—

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

Showeth,

That by a proclamation in the Government Gazette, of the 2nd of April, 1844, certain regulations were promulgated, under the authority of His Excellency the Governor, with the advice of the Executive Council, which alterations will be effected on the conditions previously in force for the occupations of Crown lands beyond the boundaries of location, of a nature likely in the opinion of your Majesty's petitioners, to prove highly injurious to the pastoral interests of this colony.

That these interests are already in a very depressed state, so as to be incapable of bearing fresh burthens, and it is to be feared that the uncertain and disadvantageous tenure under which the grazing lands of the Crown are occupied, together with the diminution of profit arising from this and other causes, will act as a discouragement to pastoral pursuits, for which the country is adapted by nature, and upon the successful prosecution of which its welfare and advancement mainly depend.

That besides the license fees for the privilege of grazing over the Crown lands, beyond the boundaries of location, the occupants of those lands contribute to the public revenue of the colony by an assessment upon stock of every description depasturing thereon, and for the large sum levied, in all more than £35,000 per annum, no commensurate degree of protection or security is derived, those being the objects for which the system of license and assessment was instituted.

That your Majesty's Petitioners would humbly submit that so large an amount of contribution to the public revenue should entitle the occupants of Crown lands, not only to security of person and property, but to a less precarious tenure of those lands, instead of being subject, as at present, to removal, at one month's notice, by which they are virtually precluded from the erection of permanent dwellings, from the cultivation of the soil, and from the improvements that would lead greatly to the social advancement and civilization of this country.

That should the present system be continued, there can be but little of the due administration, for many years to come, of the ordinances of religion beyond the boundaries of location, and it may be too justly a ground of apprehension, lest religion itself should become a mere by-word, and the rising generation grow up habitually ignorant of its observances, and hardened against its precepts.

That your Majesty's Petitioners fully acknowledge the right of your Majesty to control and direct the disposal of the waste lands of this colony for the good of the empire at large, the first step to which, they would humbly submit, is to make them in the highest degree beneficial to this colony, and they conceive this object will be best attained by confiding the administration of the Crown Lands to the Governor and Legislative Council, under a judicious and well-defined system, the chief aim of which should be to promote the permanent improvement of this country, to encourage a beneficial emigration to its shores, and to strengthen the ties of mutual affection, and reciprocal interests between this colony and the parent state.

And your Majesty's Petitioners will ever pray.

DUNGOG.

A MEETING of the inhabitants residing in the neighbourhood was held at Dungog, on Wednesday last, for the purpose of preparing a petition to the Governor and Legislative Council, praying that the district may not be assessed for one-half of the police expenses. A series of resolutions were passed, setting forth that the settlers are principally tenants on clearing leases, and that in the present depressed state of the markets, caused by the importation of foreign grain, they are in such a state of destitution that it will be impossible to raise the necessary sum in the district. A resolution was also passed on the unfairness of taxing the district in connexion with the Australian Agricultural Company, the Company's property, servants, and tenants, having been exempted from assessment. The petition is to be transmitted to Mr. Windeyer for presentation to the Legislative Council.

ORIGINAL CORRESPONDENCE.

BORDER POLICE.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—I read in your journal of to-day, Mr. Wentworth's speech on the Governor's Message, with reference to the estimated expenditure for 1845, and on looking over that part of it which relates to the character and efficiency of the Border Police generally, I purpose showing, (should you think the subject of sufficient importance to admit of your inserting this letter in your paper), that in the enthusiasm of abuse, which that honorable gentleman has indulged, and, that the very "uncomplimentary" epithets he has bestowed on this force, he has not been warranted, by the conduct and character of at least a part of the men composing that corps.

The data upon which Mr. Wentworth has based the sweeping charges he has made on the Border Police have evidently been received from parties who have given a one-sided view of the question. I will take the matter of the "sergeant having been robbed by a bushranger, of his horse, &c., while he (Mr. Policeman) had his gun ready cocked." I know, that such was not the case; I know that the man had not his gun cocked, nor any means of using his gun, when sprung upon by the bushranger. I was myself in pursuit of this very bushranger. The circumstance occurred in the immediate neighbourhood where the policeman lost his horse. I am perfectly well acquainted with all the facts of the case, and, had I been similarly situated, I should have acted in precisely the same manner that the policeman did.

Mr. Wentworth's informant, had he been inclined, might have ascertained, that by the great exertion of this same policeman, he recovered his horse in a very short time afterwards, having pursued the bushranger so closely as to make him abandon it. The district, however, in which this took place, being about three times as large as any other Border Police District in the colony, and abounding with harbourers of bushrangers, it is not so easy to capture maurauders at a moment's notice. That the establishment of the Border Police, as a protecting force, has been, on the whole, attended with signal success, I can by no means, fairly admit. I think, however, that the non-efficiency and ill-conduct of many of the men attached to this force can be traced to other causes, besides the bad materiel of which it is composed. The mere fact of these men being placed in a position, giving them of necessity much freedom of action and temporary power, required that the most rigorous detail of discipline should be kept up with them, and that their military habits should be rigidly preserved; this I do not think has been the case in some districts. I not for a moment impugn the efficiency of the gentlemen executing the office of Commissioners in other respects, but in the importance of their magisterial functions, and the onerous duties of Commissioners, they have not sufficiently attended to the details of that discipline so necessary to ensure good conduct and efficiency in any soldier, be he attached either to the Mounted or Border Police.

It is, however, no longer practicable to choose transported soldiers for the Border Police, and I think the plan of His Excellency the Governor, of having well-behaved free men, may, with strict attention to drill and discipline on the part of the Commissioner, be attended with very good results. It is, however, unfair that each and every Commissioner and Border Policeman should be sacrificed to popular clamour, and (in many cases) unfounded prejudice.

With reference to the instances of cowardice, running away from blacks, &c., &c., as adduced by Mr. Wentworth, I can only say that during three years that I had a party of six Border Policemen under my orders, I took every armed bushranger that ever made his appearance in the district, before they had been in it a week; in more cases than one, two of my men took three armed bushrangers, and brought them safely in. They had several collisions with the natives, and took prisoners some of the most desperate and notorious "cattle spearers," under rather trying circumstances. In many instances, when, with myself placed in the most imminent danger, they behaved with the greatest coolness and efficiency; and I can safely say, that during the three years they were under my orders, and up to the time that I handed them over to my successor, their conduct was fully as good as that of the Mounted Police, of which corps no one has a higher opinion than myself; and few have had better opportunities of observing their efficiency, or have been brought into more frequent personal contact with them. I will run the risk of being charged with egotism and self-sufficiency, for the sake of argument I simply speak facts, and challenge contradiction. It is known to many that the principal settlers, and all the magistrates of the district, under my charge, joined in requesting me to obtain the sanction of the Governor, that the man whom I had placed over my party of Border Police should be retained as permanent corporal, after he had received his ticket-of-leave for taking bushrangers. Such an opinion did he entertain of his service in the district; and His Excellency acceded to my recommendation, and placed him on an increased rate of pay.

Nor can I withhold the expression of my opinion of the good conduct of the policemen of the Commissioner for the Lachlan. I have had frequent opportunity of judging of them, and have seen them alert in their duties, and rendering good service to the district.

I am aware that these observations may be considered rather late in the day, as I presume "the Border Police" will not exist much longer; but after reading the speech of the honorable member for Sydney, I could not help endeavouring to let the audi alteram partem go forth to the public through the medium of your journal. The abuse of the Border Police creates a fruitful subject for discussion, now-a-days, both in town and country. It will perhaps not be deemed presumptuous in me to hope, that anything in your paper having a contrary tendency, may meet with five minutes' attention from some of your readers.

I am, Gentlemen,

Your very obedient servant,

AN EX COMMISSIONER OF CROWN LANDS.

THE ORDER SYSTEM.

To the Editors of the Sydney Morning Herald.

GENTLEMEN,—In your paper of the 23rd inst., a correspondent who signs himself "Scrutator," and heads his communication as above, attempts to enlighten the public, and at the same time to pay a left-handed compliment to certain issuers of "orders" in this locality for being possessed of more than an ordinary share of ingenuity in the manufacture of "orders," payment of which can only be demanded in "goods." But if Mr. "Scrutator" had allowed himself to scrutinise a little more acutely, and to enquire a little more fully into the plan here adopted, with respect to the issue of these "five shilling orders," he would have had no good grounds for disclaiming, as he had done, against the parties alluded to; but having, like many a wiseacre, mistaken the effect of an evil for its cause, both his indignation and his philanthrophy, have, upon the present occasion, been rather imprudently expended. These orders are not issued in payment to the "poorer and more illiterate classes" in the manner mis-represented by "Scrutator," but are issued in change for local and other orders not immediately available as cash; and which would be rejected altogether unless the full amount of them was taken out in goods, being exactly tantamount to giving the said goods upon credit. If an individual, for instance, proffers one of these orders, purporting to be worth a pound, but which from the difficulty of obtaining payment of the said pound, no one in his senses would think of giving cash in change for, (unless it was Mr. "Scrutator," who seems evidently a "man of feeling,") and does not require the pound's worth of goods all at once, change is given in small orders for "goods," which the holder can consequently get as he requires them.

If Mr. "Scrutator" would only apply his philosophy to the furnishing of a cure by some legislative enactment for the unhealthy and rotten state of the present "order system," as a payment for labour in the interior, and by which the labourer is robbed of a large portion of his earnings, from being paid for the same in a sadly depreciated currency, his philanthropy might then find a proper channel to ooze out at; but he is wasting his valuable time in attempting to throw obloquy upon a natural and (as things are) a useful excrescence of the "order system."

The simplest remedy I can suggest would be, to place the holders of all orders drawn for wages in the same position as the hired servant to whom they are issued himself is placed under the Act. It is impossible to keep bank notes in the country for the payment of servants' wages; and as they must also be paid in negociable paper, the legislature therefore is called upon to devise measures to make the currency in which servants are paid as sound as its basis—labour.

GOVERNMENT GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 2, 1844.

CLOTHING AND STORES FOR CONVICT ESTABLISHMENTS.

COLONIAL Secretary's Office, Sydney, 1st August, 1844. The following regulations having been prepared for giving effect to the instructions of Her Majesty's Government, for checking the application of clothing and stores entrusted for distribution to the officers of the convict establishments, His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to direct their publication, for the information and guidance of all parties concerned.

Regulations for carrying into effect the order of the Secretary of State, dated 28th September, 1843, No. 154, for the better rendering account of the appropriation of clothing and other stores issued from the depôt at Sydney, for convict services.

All officers or superintendents in charge of convict establishments, hospitals and stockades, are hereby directed to forward to the heads of their respective departments, quarterly returns in duplicate, with vouchers for the receipt and disposal of all articles of clothing and stores which shall have been supplied to them by the Ordnance Department, or received from any other source; such accounts to be made up and rendered as prescribed in a printed form, and in accordance with the instructions thereon, which will be furnished for their guidance; and the respected heads of Departments will, after examining and certifying the same, send the returns and vouchers to the senior officer of the Commissariat of Accounts in Sydney, and will further be prepared at all times to furnish to that officer any additional information or vouchers he may deem necessary to call for in explanation or support of the accounts.

In order to ascertain the exact quantity and state of the clothing and stores in possession of the officers or superintendants in charge, a survey will be held at each station as soon as possible after the receipt of this regulation, by a board, to be appointed for that purpose, and the report of such survey will form the charge of each officer or superintendent, in the accounts to be from that time rendered; a similar survey will be held on the 1st April and 1st October, in every year.

All further requisitions for clothing and stores for the convict establishments and stockades are to be made in triplicate, on the usual printed forms, and in accordance with the regulation dated 4th October, 1836, and (with the exception of hospitals) forwarded to the Principal Superintendent of Convicts, to be countersigned by him previously to their transmission to His Excellency the Governor for approval; and requisitions for hospitals are to be sent to the Deputy-Inspector General of Hospitals, and those for the brig Governor Phillip, to the senior Commissariat Officer for the same purpose.

The order dated 27th September, 1836, which directs that all requisitions be forwarded to the Commanding Royal Engineer or Ordnance Storekeeper, is cancelled.
